

Douglas W. Stone

Doug Stone became Scout Executive for the Indian Waters Council, Boy Scouts of America on December 1, 2008. He is a nineteen-year Scouting professional who was chosen after a nationwide search by a selection committee of the council's board of directors.

In this role, Doug serves as executive director for one of the largest youth-serving agencies in South Carolina, with more than 8,000 youth and 2,000 adult members in the eight counties of the Midlands Region.

Prior to joining the Indian Waters Council, Doug served as the Director of Field Service for the Heart of America Council in Kansas City, Missouri, where he supervised 28 Scouting professionals and led the council to record-breaking membership and fundraising achievements.

Previously, Doug served as Director of Finance and in other roles for the Boy Scout councils in Washington, D.C. and Hartford, Connecticut. As a youth, he was one of four brothers to achieve the Eagle Scout rank and he served on Boy Scout summer camp staff for ten years. He is a 1988 graduate of St. Lawrence University in Canton, New York.

Today, Doug serves as the Treasurer and Secretary of the Downtown Columbia Rotary Club and is active with the United Methodist Church, the United Way and the Chamber of Commerce. He and his wife, Elizabeth, are the proud parents of four young children and they reside in Lexington.
